

Professor Lisa Lattan is a Lecturer of Law and the Director of the LL.M. in American Legal Studies program at the University of Kansas School of Law. Prior to joining the KU Law School faculty in 2023, Professor Lattan was a practicing attorney in the U.S. for nearly 30 years. During her career she served as senior legal counsel in the corporate legal departments of J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. and American Century Investments, and she was a partner in a specialty law firm for 10 years. At KU Law Professor Lattan teaches Lawyering Skills to first-year JD students and an Introduction to Employee Benefits Law seminar for upper-level JD students, as well as working with the LL.M. program.
